

TRNA Silver Anniversary Celebration

Saturday, June 4th

Fred van Berkel, Historian, TRNA

Volunteers are needed to make the 25th anniversary celebration a reality. We need coordinators for entertainment, traffic control, publicity, food sales, displays and cleanup. We need workers to sell soft drinks, control traffic in the parking lot, make signs, staff TRNA sales and information tables, clean up after the event, and more. Volunteer: be part of your community's history!

We are also still seeking performers for the sound stage, hot air balloonists to provide tethered balloon rides, and broadcasters to do remote broadcasts from Mariposa Basin Park on June 4th.

For more information, to suggest performers, to volunteer to help with the celebration, contact Fred van Berkel (899-2738, historian@trna.org). ®

Beautification News

Lily Andrews, Dir. Beautification/Education, TRNA

The March Mariposa Basin Park cleanup was another success thanks to the following members who donated their time to improve the park. They are Shirley and Erica Valencia, Sheryl Kearby, Duane Lane, Charlotte Lane, Don and Lynn MacCornack, Gene Stone, Michael Andrews and Mike Andrews.

In April we are doing something a little different. We are joining the Mayor's Great American Spring Cleanup on Saturday, April 30, from 9am to noon. We will still meet at Mariposa Park to cleanup the park but are hoping for more volunteers to pickup the surrounding areas in Taylor Ranch. Do you drive by a median that needs some attention? Or perhaps your neighborhood or even the street you live on could use some TLC. We will provide trash bags and refreshments starting at 9am on April 30th. Get some fresh air and exercise and come and join us! ®

President's Message

Don MacCornack, President, TRNA

Hope everyone had a great time at the Easter Egg Hunt despite the weather. Another successful event. Thank you Social Committee.

It has come to my attention that some see TRNA only as a social organization. This is due to TRNA's success with the Easter Egg Hunt, Flea Markets and the Holiday Party. What people don't see is the efforts of a few passionate individuals who volunteer their time to meet with City leaders, developers, and builders to help shape our community. These individuals do this not for the praise, but because of their desire to make the community better. Maybe the TRNA Board needs to get better at communicating our behind the scene efforts.

Special thanks to David Freeman, Bill Jack Rodgers and Walter Sala for stepping up to serve on the TRNA Board and thanks to returning Board members Donna Rigano and Ceil van Berkel. When someone is willing to serve their community it speaks volumes of ones character.

Please tell your neighbors how important you think TRNA is to you and our neighborhood. Please send your comments and concerns to me at president@trna.org.

News Notes from the Annual Meeting

Ceil van Berkel, Treasurer, TRNA

We were honored that Mayor Martin Chavez was able to attend the annual meeting on March 24th and inform us all of exciting developments in Albuquerque.

He believes that Paseo del Norte construction could begin as early as June, if the legal challenges are settled. A Crime Alert program will begin on the West Side, with key neighborhood personnel receiving text messages from the police. When asked about getting an indoor pool in TR, the mayor suggested using CIP funds to build one at the Sierra Vista facility.

History Corner #7, Part III

The Apartments—Our Options Narrow

By John Hemler, Member, TRNA

[RECAP: On June 12, 1989, some dilapidated, unsightly apartments, circa 1940s-50s, were moved into Taylor Ranch and onto a site at the northwest corner of Montano and San Ildefonso. TR residents strongly opposed this action, and responded with pickets, petitions, and proposed law suits to halt construction and to condemn these apartments as private or public nuisances. During the next 6 months, a number of actions took place. Some of these were: a) In July, the Mayor and his staff attempted to negotiate with the owners; the negotiations failed because of "unreasonable" demands by the owners. b) TRNA filed papers in the District Court to obtain a stop work order and to condemn the apartments. c) Councilor Baca introduced a resolution to condemn the apartments to the City Council; the council postponed action for 3 months. d) In September, the Mayor informed the City Council that the owners were willing to negotiate, this time on reasonable terms using independent appraisers. Because of City elections and campaigns, the Council did not give the Mayor negotiating authority until early November. e) In December, a newly reconstituted Council rejected Baca's condemnation resolution and the new Administration broke off negotiations to buy the property because "there are no funds to purchase it" .]

The following events in 1990-91 continued this saga of "The Apartments":

1. January, 1990: TR representatives met with staff members of the new administration. They continued the litany that we had heard so many times—the apartments were legally sited, and even though minimal (if any) renovations had occurred in the 6 months since their arrival in TR, the owners had a legal permit to perform these renovations—"The City's role will be to only ensure the complex is brought up to codes."
2. January, 1990: In December, TRNA received a set of interrogatories ( legal jargon for formal questions or inquiries) from the owners attorney as a part of the process regarding our law suit for condemnation. Our responses were filed with the Court in January.
3. April 11, 1990 : A Journal article reported that PNM was suing the owners for expenses that occurred when the structures were moved from their old location on the east side to TR. The article also mentioned that a fire had occurred at the apartments in late March which fire officials suspected was arson. In an interview with one of the owners, he said that "renovation had been slowed by a dispute with the previous owners, preventing him from refinancing the project".
4. May, 1990: The permit to renovate the apartments was extended to November, 1990 by the City.
5. June, 1990: The TRNA president had appointed an ad hoc committee to take a new and broader look at our possible options. (A year had gone by and little or no renovation activity had occurred.)
6. August 21, 1990: Based upon one of the ad hoc committee's recommendations, a TRNA letter was sent to Mayor Saavedra with copies to all City Councilors. It requested : a) The owners permit , due to expire in November, not be renewed. b) If, because of current law, the permit must be renewed, that such renewal be approved by the City Council, and that performance bond of no less than $200,000 be required of the owners to guarantee completion of construction within 6 months. c) Assuming non-renewal , that the owners be notified to remove the structure within 30 days.
7. August 23, 1990: Earle Waid, Assistant to the Mayor, said that his office had been told that the owners had secured a construction loan for the controversial apartments in TR. He said "They've got a contractor on board, the subs(contractors) are ready to go, it's just a matter of getting the title cleared and then getting the construction money—I hope."
8. August, 1990: In late August, the defendants (owners) lawyer filed a motion in District Court to have the TRNA law suit dismissed, basically on the grounds that the plaintiffs "are not a proper party to bring this law suit" and " this law suit has put a cloud over the defendants title and bars defendants from refinancing so the apartment refurbishing can be completed ." A hearing on this motion was scheduled in District Court for September 5, 1990.

9. September 5, 1990: The hearing was held in District Judge Rozier Sanchez's chambers. At the conclusion of this hearing, Judge Sanchez: a) Stated that TRNA's charges of "public" and "private" nuisance had sufficient grounds to merit adjudication in the courts. b) Directed TRNA's pro bono attorney, Robert Aragan, to prepare an order for Judge Sanchez's signature, enjoining the City of Albuquerque to become an "involuntary plaintiff". The City was given 30 days after receiving the order in which to give satisfactory reasons to the judge for not joining, or they would have to join. c) The defendants' motion to dismiss TRNA's lawsuit was taken under advisement until such time as the City joins the lawsuit or not.
10. September 16, 1990: Judge Sanchez, in an unexpected move, dismissed the TRNA lawsuit on "technical grounds". He did, however, order the owners to obtain financing and began renovation work by March 19, 1991!!

Land Use Update: Fountain Plaza

As you may have seen in the ABQ Journal, a large development, including 3 six-story buildings and several retail stores, is planned for the vacant land south of Paradise, west of Eagle Ranch, and north of Paseo. City Planner Elvira Lopez reports that prior to the EPC hearing on March 17, 2005, Planning Staff conducted further research and analysis regarding the zoning which modified staff interpretation of the Zoning in two matters. One was that the maximum height permitted for this site is 3.5 stories, not 6. On March 17, 2005, the EPC voted to defer the site plan approval request.. This case is scheduled to be heard by the EPC on May 19, 2005. For additional information contact Elvira Lopez at 924-3910. ®

Over the past 9 1/2 years the amount of city water pumped to residents has dropped 30% although the population has grown by 32%. This is a remarkable conservation effort..

Reconstruction of the intersections of 2nd and 4th street with Montano are fully funded. The Mayor also noted that while 40% of the city lies west of the river, only 10% of the jobs are located west of the river.

The Sunport will be undergoing major renovations, including the addition of immigration control facilities for international travelers.

A second speaker, Michelle Halstead reported on the I-40/Coors Interchange project, which will be finished by the summer of 2006.

Also at the annual meeting, TRNA President Don MacCornack presented Virginia Klebesadel with a lovely flowering plant and a five year service award in appreciation for the leadership she has exhibited as a TRNA director for the past 5 years. Virginia had submitted her resignation from the board effective at the close of the meeting. She explained: "It is with mixed emotions that I leave the board. My home has sold and I'll be temporarily residing in the nearest apartment I could find which is at The Aspens, 87114, which is not within the boundaries of TRNA. I am now an Associate TRNA Member. I sincerely appreciate the opportunity to have worked with such a fine community association and hope whatever I may have done has been beneficial to the community as a whole. Thank you for your appreciation and encouragement. Sincerely, Virginia Klebesadel." Many thanks, Virginia, for your dedication to TRNA.

Neither snow, nor sleet, nor wind, nor cold could stop the 24th annual TRNA Easter Egg Hunt! Many thanks to all who made it possible. In our next issue we will thank our volunteers and sponsors. For now, Thank you Brett Lopez, June and Ken Newman, and Rosemary Freelin for leading the way!

CONGRATULATIONS TRNA SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

Lily Andrews, Director, TRNA

This year's recipients of the TRNA Scholarships were introduced and honored at the General Meeting on March 24st. The two winners are Charlotte Lane and Rachel Griego. Charlotte is the daughter of Duane Lane and Sheryl Kearby and plans on double majoring in German and International Business with an emphasis in Finance. Rachel Griego is the daughter of Carlos and Michelle Griego and plans on majoring in Architectural Engineering or Mathematics. Congratulations scholarship winners!

There were twelve impressive applications that were submitted from students that excel in many areas from academics to sports, music, volunteer work and who also perform countless hours of community service. They were all hard working students who were dedicated not only toward obtaining a good education but also to improving their community as well as the world around them. Taylor Ranch is fortunate to have such outstanding young people living in our community.

My thanks to the Scholarship Review Committee who volunteered their time and energy to independently evaluate and rate the applications. They are Brett Lopez, Don and Lynn MacCornack, Donna Rigano, Susan Smith, Gene Stone and Robert Wood.

The two $500 awards are budgeted by the TRNA Board and funded by the TRNA Flea Markets. Please help support our youth by participating or attending the flea markets. You might even have some fun!

From the desk of Lieutenant Ed Perea, Dayshift Watch Commander, APD Westside Area Command

Dear Neighbors and Friends:

I'd like to tell you a burglary investigation story.

As a young patrol officer with only a few years on the department ( I currently have over 23yrs with APD) I was assigned to the Taylor Ranch Community. I recall being sent to investigate a burglary which occurred in one of Taylor Ranch's new neighborhoods. I arrived on the call and spoke to a woman who had just reported a burglary to her home. She was very puzzled and feeling very traumatized by this intrusion after all the doors to her home were locked and dead bolted. And if that were not enough she owned a large guard dog who was left alone in the back yard of the home. I can vouch for the size and the temperament of the dog because he let me know of his presence when I arrived. Now as the investigating officer, I began to snoop around looking for clues and evidence of who may have committed this crime. The crook had just walked away with thousands of dollars in jewelry and property belonging to our victim.

During my investigation, what I did find was a couple of large empty cans of ALPO dog food in the back yard. To the surprise of the victim that was not the brand that she fed her dog. Well, apparently our burglar was very creative in his approach and happened to find food pleasing to the dog's taste. After the dog was fed and content the burglar broke a back sliding glass window, and had his way in the house. Remember criminals can get very creative.

But the story doesn't end here. After looking for evidence at the victim's property, I went across the street and knocked on the door of a neighbor's house. The person who answered the door was a senior, somewhat frail in stature. I asked her if she had seen anything suspicious across the street on that day. She initially told me no. She then shut the door. As I walked away the door slowly opened. As I turned back the woman stood in the doorway and held out a piece of paper and asked me "will this help" she then handed me a small piece of paper with a license plate number written on it. The woman said she saw a vehicle in her neighbor's driveway that just "didn't look like it belonged." The license plate number turned out to be that of our offender. With this information, a few hours later I was able to recover half of our burglary victim's property (the other half had already been sold, maybe pre-sold. Criminals sometimes take orders before they commit their crimes.) I arrested the burglar and learned he had quite a history committing these crimes.

Officers continue to put a lot of time and effort into solving and preventing burglaries but we continue to need your help and awareness, especially as we move into warmer weather. We find as the temperature goes up, so do the number of burglaries that are reported. Other facts of interest include According to the FBI, a burglary occurs somewhere in the United States every 15.4 seconds; the majority of home and apartment burglaries occur during the daytime when most people are away at work or school; tThe summer months of July and August have the most burglaries with February having the fewest ; burglaries are committed most often by young males under 25 years of age looking for items that are small, expensive, and can easily be converted to cash; and 70% of the burglars use some amount force to enter a dwelling but their preference is to gain easy access through an  open door or window..

Give me a call 831-4705 if you have any questions. Be safe. ~ Ed

McWethy Substation 831-4705

Editor's Note: At the annual meeting March 24th, Lt. Perea presented several crime prevention suggestions and then announced that he will retire from APD at the end of April to pursue a law degree. TRNA is grateful for his years of service in our community. He has always gone the extra mile to work with the community on police matters. He will be missed. Thank you, Ed, and much success in this next phase of your life.

Annual Report

Ceil van Berkel, Treasurer, TRNA

At our March 24th Annual Meeting the general membership elected six directors to two-year terms: Don MacCormack, Ceil van Berkel, Donna Rigano, Walter Sala, David Freeman, and Bill Jack Rodgers. A bylaws revision was passed unanimously. Article II, Section 3, sentence four now states that "Any new membership unit joining the association during the calendar year shall be charged dues pro-rated semi-annually." Previously they had been pro-rated quarterly. You may request a copy of the bylaws from the TRNA Secretary. TRNA total membership was reported as 241, as of March 18th. 80 members from last year had still not renewed their memberships.

Our financial report for the year ending March 31st was presented. In summary, we began the year with $5948.66 and closed with $5396.91 (as of March 24th). Major expenses included the Christmas Party ($1,022), Newsletter ($2,200), Scholarships ($1,100), and Community Center opening and operation ($760). Major sources of funding included dues ($4,700), Easter Party, ($1,000), flea markets ($1,200), and newsletter advertising ($595.00).

In addition, the membership voted unanimously to approve the budget for next year (Apr 2005 through Mar 2006) as published below.

Off Leash Dog Parks

Curtis S. Smith, Director, TRNA

Several weeks ago you probably saw the big announcement that the City would build five additional Off-Leash Dog parks but, unfortunately, not one in Taylor Ranch, even though your board has been trying to get a dog park in Taylor Ranch for over a year and a half. Oh well, we will keep trying! We are now working with the appropriate department to get a dog park at the corner of Unser and Montano near the Taylor Ranch Library. It is not an ideal spot but probably one we can get approval for. The board has approved this spot but has asked that the fencing be of higher quality than cyclone fence. If you want a Off Leash Dog Park in Taylor Ranch, please e-mail the mayor: mayor@cabq.gov. ®

Equestrian Center Update

Ceil van Berkel, Treasurer, TRNA

After meeting with the developer and discussing the feasibility of hiring a lawyer to appeal the latest City Council decision, the Board voted unanimously not to appeal the decision. The Board could not see how we could preserve equestrian use on the land, even if we won the appeal. In addition, only a quarter of the residents in Saddle Ridge, the subdivision most affected by the conversion of the Center land to residential zoning, actively supported the appeal. Brett Lopez has been appointed the board's liaison with the developer. He will keep the community informed.
